

HashUp.

We are revolutionizing selling, buying and distribution of games.

What do we do?

- A software distribution platform based on digital cartridges as license carriers.
- Licences are open source, compatible with digital wallets.
- The licence generated by us cannot be forged.
- The creator himself sets the rules for trading the licence.
- Its creation is simple and does not require any knowledge of blockchain technology.

How do we earn on that?

- We earn commissions from selling Web 2.0 and Web3 games on our platform, from trading games on the secondary market and from the $HASH token, which price increases with each sold game.

Why are we doing this?

- HashUp's mission is to connect creators and players directly, eliminating middlemen.
- We want to restore the freedom of game distribution by trading games on the secondary market and by allowing developers to monetize games in a rewarding way.
- This is a natural step in the evolution of software distribution.

What are our advantages?

Cartridge allows the developer to have full control over the issuance of the licence, and it allows the player to sell and trade the game on the secondary market, send the game to another user or store games just like cryptocurrencies.

Each game sold on the platform causes rising the price of the $HASH token. The community will love this model!

Digital Cartridges allow the AMM mechanism to dictate the price of your software. This solution will replace the subscription model!

Our sites and platforms are designed specifically for developers and gamers. Every element is intuitive and easy to use.
